Institutional Distinctiveness

One of the missions of our college is to create patriotism among the students and to provide them an opportunity to serve the nation in the form of various defense services. The institution started NCC unit of 11th Maharashtra battalion by strenuous efforts from the academic session 1996 with the following goals and objectives.

- To provide students the platform for their inner instinct of patriotism.
- To create awareness about the importance of defense services among the rural and economically backward students.
- To provide opportunity to the students to get an easy entry in the national security forces.

The institution provides such student an opportunity to join their interested field by providing them training along with quality education.

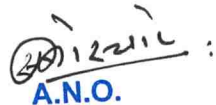

The college has NCC unit of 52 cadets including 12 girls cadets under the 11th Maharashtra battalion Akola. The cadets are enrolled for three years in this program. During these three years the cadets have to undergo strict physical training focused on their physical fitness and discipline. The cadets have to complete the assigned activities like as weakly pared, drill, theory period etc.

The cadets get opportunity of participating in battalion and National level camps in which they get weapon training. The cadets have to appear for B Cert. and C Cert. Exams. After successfully passing these exams the cadets get various opportunities to join defense services.
